Placer Mine Act Gives New Deal To Mine Claim Owners

Jesse Mayo, assemblyman from this district, who last night addressed a meeting of mining men in the city of Grass Valley, was a visitor in Nevada City last evening. Speaking to a representative of the Nugget regarding the Placer Mining bill which the governor signed Monday, he stated significantly that this act is one of the most progressive measures enacted since the Caminetti act practically halted placer mining in California.

"Mining operators," said Mayo, "do not yet realize the potentialities of this measure. By forming a district they will be able to condemn privately owned utility rights in water. They can condemn lands necessary for the erection of plants and structures.

"Mining districts organized under the act may compel obstructive minorities or individuals to yield to the common good of the district. It will apply to many situations that arise in quartz mining as well as gravel mining. For instance where there are a number of small quartz claims lying together or adjacent, under different ownership, the owners may form a district, issue bonds, erect a custom mill under common ownership and proceed to develop their claims co-operatively.

"The bonds issued by these mining districts are made legal securities for savings banks."

Drunken Brawl; One Dead; Three In Jail

As the result of a drunken brawl in the Coffe Cup on Commercial st., yesterday morning at four o'clock, Jack Thomas, referred to by the police as the bartender of the establishment, died two hours later, and before noon the following were arrested by Chief of Police Garfield Robson and lodged in the county jail: Oll Van Slyke, 28, recently from Burke, Idaho, Frank Matherly, 29, who has relatives in this vicinity, and Bill Leemaster.

These four participated in an altereation on entering The Coffee Cup by its back door yesterday morning shortly before 4 o'clock. The room was dark and in the scuffling and fighting that followed the verbal quarrel, Thomas went to the floor. Whether he was kicked in the head after falling or bruised his head upon furniture as he fell, the police are uncertain, but he had a bad bruise upon his left temple, which apparently caused the hemmorhage of the brain from which he died.

Van Slyke, Leemaster and Matherly, according to the police, were intoxicated and it was not until an hour later that Dr. Frank McCullough was called.

On ascertaining that Thomas was dead, Dr. McCullough at once notified Chief of Police Robson, Coroner A. M. Holmes, and Sheriff George Carter.

Robson quickly gathered in the three men concerned in the murder, either as material witnesses or principles. The coroner took charge of the body and Dr. McCullough performed an autopsy.

The quarrel is said to have begun between Steve Webb, night cook for The Coffee Cup, and Thomas, the reputed bartender. Thomas attmpted to throw Webb out of the building, acording to report, and the other three intervened. The Coffe Cup operates without a beer license.

OLYMPIA PARK SHOW ATTRACTS DANCE THRONG

OLYMPIA
By CHRISTIAN A. ANDERSEN

Much has been said about the opening of Lake Olympia s dance season. Many superlatives have been brought into use by abler writers than myself, therefore I shall confine my writing to actualities. This popular resort has been decorated with care so that the surroundings are pleasing to the eye, the music has been chosen with care and there is as we all agree, the mainstay of any dance Wednesday night there were approximately 400 dancers there.

Now a word regarding the floor show. (I saw it myself) it is worth the price of admission alone. Girls superlative girls—Olympian mermaids, though under any other name, they would be as attractive. I know that my wife will read this so I don't think I had better go into too much detail. But I can say this much and get away with it: they dance, they sing, they talk, they laugh. Well, if you must know, these girl's figures are patterned after the famous Venus De Milo. Now do I make myself clear? Of course you all know Frank Thurston the guy who runs the park, well even Frank says that these girls are pretty nice. Bill Heates and Eddie Norman, they sure know girls. Guess I better stop or I might go too far, but anyway it is a darn nice show.

DOROTHY WORTHLY WINS HAUVER SCHOLARSHIP

Miss Dorothy Worthley, who graduates with the Nevada City high school class this evening, won the Hauver Scholarship of $200 which is awarded at the end of each school year to a graduating student on the basis of high scholarship.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Worthley of Nevada City and has a host of friends who rejoice with her in receiving this splendid award.

CHILDREN EXTINQUISH FIRE ON HOUSE ROOF

Fire on the roof of Mrs. De Wein's home on Boulder street called out the fire department yesterday afternoon. Though the fire engine arrived promptly, small boys, who had climbed on the roof with a hose, had the fire practically extinquished when it arrived. It is believed that the fire originated from sparks from the chimney.

The boys who put out the fire with sweaters, sacks and even a broom were Ainsley Fouyer, M. Elliott, and E. Chapman grandson of Dr. C. W. Chapman, the Van Berg boy and two sons of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jacobs. They were playing along the stream back of the house and when the neighbors called fire they hastened over and climbed up on the roof and went to work manfully.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Behrbaum rent the house from Mrs. Elinore Hoeft De Wein.

Ernest Chapman should be given the most credit as he stayed by the fire and kept it down until help arrived.

RECKLESS DRIVER TO PAY FINE OF $120

Charles Nichols, a miner, accused of reckless driving, was tried before Justice of the Peace Oscar E. Winburn in Grass Valley yesterday before a jury, was found guilty after the jjury had deliberated but five minutes, and sentenced by the court to $120 fine or 60 days in jail.

Last August Nichols, according to witnesses, driving on the wrong side of the road near the Columbus school, ran down and injured two little children of Frank S. Quinn, state highway patrol inspector of this district.

The children were seriously hurt and were treated in a hospital.

Testimony was given by Traffic Officer Will Fouyer and Inspector Quinn, the two Quinn children, and other witnesses. On the stand testifying in his own behalf Nichols stated that he had been drinking.

Riley Tax Plan Would Help Nevada County

Editor Nevada City Nugget
Dear Sir:

At the special election to be held on the 27th of this month, there are two proposals in which the people of Nevada county are deeply interested and which vitally concern them.

The first is No. 1 on the ballot, under the heading "Taxation." This measure takes the entire cost of the schools off the shoulders of the county and places such expenses upon the State at large. According to the estimate of the State Board of Equalization, this will cut the tax bill of every citizen $1.63 upon every hundred dollars of his assessment. In addition, by the year 1935 there will be added to the tax rolls of this county some $2,500,000.00, the value of the operative properties of public utilities in this county, which at present are not subject to local taxation. It would seem as though this measure should receive a "yes" vote from every citizen in Nevada county, if he is at all interested in seeing his tax bill upon his real property cut almost in half.

The second measure is the "Gas Tax Fund" diversion, covered by numbers 9 and 10. Under the present budget of the Highway Commission, $300,000.00 is allowed and will be expended within the next two years in building the eastern end of the "Tahoe Ukiah" Highway, from Bear Valley to the Junction with the "Auburn-Reno" Highway. If these measures carry, and the funds are diverted from the building of highways to the payment of interest and principle of State Bonds, it is practically certain that the allowance of $300,000.00 to build our road will be cancelled for lack of funds. Furthermore, this will be only an opening wedge which will be the forerunner of further raids upon the gas tax funds. You are paying this tax for the construction and maintenance of roads, and not for the purpose of paying off the general obligations of the state, even though those obligations may have been incurred a number of years ago in highway construction work. The general fund of the State has met such obligations in the past and should continue to do so in the future, and if the "Riley" tax plan is made the law (No. 1 on the ballot) there should be ample funds to meet the general expences of the State. If you vote "Yess" upon these last two measures on the ballot, you vote to put thousands of men out of employment. For these reasons I believe we should vote "No" upon each of these measures relatting to diversion of the Gas Tax Fund.

Yours truly,
RAGLAN TUTTLE.

Hi Band May Give Concert Series

A group of citizens headed by Elza Kilroy, has a plan afoot to engage Nevada high school band this summer for a series of concerts in this city. The plan ,as tentatively proposed, is to employ the band at $50 per month for a midweek conert during two or three months of the school vacation. It is proposed to raise the needed funds for this musical treat by private subscriptions.

The members of the band, which recently made such a remarkable record in its first appearance in a concert contest in San Francisco's Civic auditorium, are reported as eager to play during the summer, thereby maintaining their practice standards and entering the fall term in musical stride, so to speak. L. E. Sweeney, director of the band, has indicated his willingness to remain in Nevada City during the summer to conduct the necessary rehearsals and to lead the band i nits oncerts.

A LETTER FROM JERRY SEAWELL

June 12, 1933

H. M. Leete, Nevada City Nugget
Dear Editor:

I believe that the people of Nevada county should unanimously support Constitutional Amendment No. 30, Proposition No. 1 on the ballot at the election to be held June 27th. This is the so-called Riley-Stewart Tax Plan, and realizing that a change in the tax system would require a long explanation, I am trying to outline as briefly as possible the reasons why the people of Nevada county should support this measure.

This Amendment has for its sole purpose the furnishing of tax relief to the common property owners, particularly farmers. To achieve this object the measure proposes major changes in the tax system of the State as follows:

No. 1.

Provides positive relief for the intolerable burden now imposed upon real property by providing that the State shall finance from sources other than property taxation the nearly $38,000,000 now required to be raised for school purposes as a part of the county tax rate on common property.

No. 2.

Limits county, city and school district expenditures to an amount not exceeding more than five per cent the amount spent in the previous year, thus assuring that local taxpayers will get full benefit from the transfer of educational expense from the counties to the State.

No. 3.

Limits State expenditures for each biennium to an amount not exceeding by more than five per cent the amount spent in the previous two-year period, at the same time limiting the amount of State taxes which can be raised by levies on property to twenty-five per cent of the total State expenditures, thus assuring that common property owners may not be deprived of the tax relief which is the aim of the entire plan.

No. 4.

Abandons, effective January 1, 1935, the present separation of sources of State and local revenues by returning utility property to the local tax rolls to be taxed in the same way that other property is taxed, thereby broadening the local tax base by one-sixth, with corresponding tax reduction for the common property owner, and consolidating all taxpayers into a cohesive group whose interest are identical.

No. 5.

Assures adequate valuation of utility property by providing for its central assessment by the State Board of Equalization with full apportionment back to the several localities where the property is situated.

No. 6.

Authorizes the Legislature to provide for the balancing of the State budget, to raise sufficient funds to enable the State to take over school costs now required to be paid out of the county property taxes and to give such further property tax relief as may be feasible by means of any type of taxation not prohibited by the Constitution.

By removing the mandatory matching requirements and transferring to the State the change now made against the county for average daily attendance in the high and elementary schools, Nevada county would receive an immediate savings to the local taxpayers of $89,204.25. This would mean a reduction of $1.63 per hundred dollars assessed valuation in Nevada county or approximately a 20 per cent reduction in taxation.

In addition to this in 1935 with the return of operative properties of public utilities to the local tax base would mean the addition of approximately four millions of dollars to the local county tax roll for taxable purposes. This would mean that Nevada county would have four million dollars more property for taxation on its rolls than it has at the present time, which is indicative that in 1935, an addiional reduction could be expected of approximately 40 per cent in your county tax rate. Combining this with the immediate 20 per cent relief afforded by the transfer of the school costs to the State, would make a reducion of 60 per cent in the county tax rate over the two-year period.

I sincerely trust you will convey this information to the people of Nevada county through the columns of your valuable paper.

Sincerely yours,
JERROLD L. SEAWELL

Stalled On Madeline Hill

The grade was steep on Madeline hill,
And labored the engine's breathing;
The wild wind raged, the night was dark,
And the river was angrily seething;
Dan Steele, the husky young engineer
Opined that he sure was whipped,
He struggled hard on that treacherous grade
But the engine bucked and slipped.

Now the station master in Reno town,
Was new to the job and place;
So he waited there for old 39
With an anxiously puckered up face.
"By gum, that train's long over due,"
He said in impatient tones,
As he listened the while to the pouring rain
And the mad wind's shrieks and moans.

Then over the wires with crack and snap,
Came a message from up near Guther,
"I'm stuck," it said, "on Madeline Hill,
And I can't get no further,."
Then the station master, new to the place,
Arose in a fury of wrath,
"No whipper-snapper like Steele," he swore,
"Can philander along my path!"

"I'm here to make a record, by gad;
And I'm betting dollar to dime,
That while I'm holding down this job,
The trains will come in on time."
So he sent this message out thru the night,
"By all the gods of Zeno,
You've gotta mary that girl, Jim Steele,
And bring her along to Reno."

—A. MERRIAM CONNER.

FUNERAL SERVICE TODAY FOR MASSINO ANGIOLINI

The news of the death of Massino Angiolini at the home of his daughter in Isleton, early Wednesday morning came as a great shock to his many friends in Nevada City.

While it was known that he was quite ill, hopes were held that he would recover.

Mr. Angiolini was born in Pardona, Massa-Carara, Italy 56 years ago. He came to the United States in 1904 leaving his native land his wife and six months old son, who joined him in Nevada City six years later.

He opened a shoe repair shop, having learned the trade of a cobbler in his native country, and followed this work for about six years. Later he gave up the work and followed other lines of business.

He was looked upon as a leader by the members of the Italian colony of Nevada City and his death will be a sever blow to them. For about four years he had been engaged in semi-legal work, having taken out a notarial commission in order to assist his friends.

Always a friend and counselor he aided his friends in many ways, often without recompense, receiving the satisfaction of doing a kindly act.

In 1912 he became an American citizen and took seriously the obligations of citizenship. Mr. Angiolini took a great pride in the city of his adoption and was always foremost in projects for its growth.

His wife passed away about a year ago.

He is survived by a son, Tarquinio Angiolini of Nevada City and a daughter, Mrs. R. C. Pratt, of Isleton. There are three brothers in South America and a brother and sister in Italy.

Holmes Funeral Home car brought the body up from Isleton and burial will take place in Pine Grove cemetery.

Services will be held at 10 o'clock this morning at St. Canice Catholic church ,with celebration of high requiem mass by the Rev. Father Patrick O'Reilly.

ALL COUNTIES TO BENEFIT BY NEW TAX PLAN

By THOMAS B. MALARKEY

SACRAMENTO, June 15—(UP)—Immediate financial and service benefits will acrue to every county of California when the so-called 6,600 mile road bill—already signed by the governor—becomes effective August 22.

MALARKEY

The bill actually adds approximately 6,800 miles of new county roads to the state's secondary state highway system and gives municipalities an additional quarter of a cent per gallon of the gas tax fund, or approximately $3,000,000 annually, for street repair work within their borders.

Immediate effect will be to relieve counties of the necessity of maintaining and repairing these roads. This job will be assumed by the state highway department at a biennial cost of $6,000,000.

Removing this burden from the counties will mean, according to the state highway department, that a great majority of the counties will be able to abandon their direct county road tax.

Nevada county last year received $28,499.53 as its share of the gasoline and motor vehicle taxes. It expended this sum on its county roads totaling 192.56 miles at an average apportionment of $148.00 per mile.

The new road bill will permit the counties to do one of three things: 1.—Abolish direct road taxes; 2—increase its per mile expenditure on remaining county roads in direct proportion to the amount saved by the state taking over its major roads; 3—place counties in the position of delverting 20 per cent of their gas tax and motor vehicle apportionment to payment of interest and redemption of county road bonds, something which was made possible by legislation passed during the last session.

The road bill will tend to cripple the primary state highway construction program. The $6,000,000 annually that goes to maintain the new secondary state highways and to pay the additional quarter cent gas tax to municipalities must come out of the state highway construction funds.

To a large degree, state highway authorities said, the maintainance work on the 6,800 miles of new secondary state highways will be of a higher standard than under the county regime. Already the highway department is preparing to purchase additional road maintenance equipment and also to increase, to some extent, its road maintenance crews.

Mrs. George Gildersleeve was called to Napa Wednesday on account of her mothers illness.

Liberal trade-in allowance and small down payment.

SOONER or later you will buy a new gas range. But before you buy a range be sure it has all the advanced features that mark the 1933 Gas Ranges which are being offered on Special Summer Sales terms by your gas company and your local gas appliance dealer.

There is a world of difference in the NEW gas ranges over those of even a few years ago. These 1933 gas ranges are better built—are better values and cost less to buy today.

In the new gas ranges are full sized ovens, heavily insulated all around, for most economical operation. Every part too, except the satin smooth cooking tops, is porcelain enameled, even within the ovens.

Look, too, for the improved heat control on these new gas ranges which eliminates oven watching. A simple dial which you set at the temperature desired and which maintains that temperature until the required cooking operation is completed. Then, too, there are the handy service drawers and the adjustable drawer-type broiler, two features every woman will appreciate.

Think what it will mean to have one of these complete new gas ranges in your kitchen, not only now but in years to come. Right now because of Special Summer Sales Terms a very small down payment gives you immediate installation. Why not see about a new gas range for your kitchen today?

GOVERNOR SIGNS MANY MEASURES

By MELVIN LORD

SACRAMENTO, June 15—(UP)—Outstanding among the bills signed recently by Governor Rolph, senate bill No. 7 will assure relief to California debtors.

LORD

Briefly, the measure provides. (1) Notices of trust deeds must be recorded in every county where property is located and notices of default and sale must be mailed to every person making such a request; (2) the Debtor is given option at any time before sale or court foreclosure to wipe out default and reinstate instrument as if all payments had been made on time; (3) Amount of available deficiency is made difference between appraised value of property and amount of debt instead of difference between the amount obtained at the foreclosure sale and the debt; (4) No deficiency judgment can be given on a purchase money trust deed or mortgage, and no deficiency judgment can be given if the sale takes place between the date the law becomes effective and September 1, 1935 unless notice of default is posted a year prior to the sale.

In a telegram to Governor Rolph, United States Senator William Gibbs McAdoo promised his full cooperation in an attempt to interest federal officials in financing the statewide water conservation program. A delegation is in Washington at the present time seeking loans to finance the $160,000,000 project.

In the future sportsmen in search of salmon and steelhead will have the Klamath and Smith rivers all to themselves. Two measures prohibiting commercial fishing on these streams have been signed by the governor.

Small counties from now on will get a bigger share of gasoline tax funds. A measure providing that in addition to the $20,000 allowed all counties as a minimum allocation, remaining funds will be divided on a basis of automobile registration, has been approved by the governor.

With the end of the month marking the close of the current biennium, the capitol probably will see a general reorganization of most state departments to fit staffs to the more limited means provided in the new budget. Many departments will be forced to let scores of workers go. In the department of agriculture, for instance, it is reported approximately 90 jobs will be eliminated for lack of funds.

Another bill favoring property owners also has become a law following favorable action by Rolph. The measure provides reduction of penalties for delinquent payments on th efirst tax installment from 10 to 8 per cent; second installment from 5 to 3 per cent and cuts penalties for redemption to one per cent monthly.

NEW METHOD OF PROTECTION

BUTTE, Mont., June 15—(UP)—J. N. Gossett has a new method of frightening coyotes and mountain lions away from his sheep. He equips the sheep with headlights.

Gossett reported complete success in protecting his sheep from predatory animals by attaching a flashlight battery and light to a collar about the sheep's necks. A red reflector mirrors the light.

Only a few of the sheep need to be ornamented in this manner, Gossett said. When coyotes or mountain lions see the red lights bobbing about among the sheep they are frightened away, he declared.

A New Deal For Liver Sufferers

Don't be misled any longer. Calomel, salts, oils, mineral waters, laxative pills, herb teas, powders, etc., have no effect whatever on the liver. There are only two generally recognized substances which actually cause a sluggish liver to increase its production of bile. Sargon Soft Mass Pills contain both of them.

You can't feel well and strong unless your liver furnishes plenty of fresh bile every day. Without bile food doesn't digest properly—it just ferments and decays—Constipation, gas, sour stomach, headaches and nervousness follow.

Unless you have tried Sargon Soft Mass Pills you can have no idea of their effect—You feel stronger, healthier, happier—life and color return to faded eyes and cheeks—appetite and digestion improve rapidly.

Only 60c for a full 30-day treatment. At your druggist, or write G. F. Willis, Inc., Atlanta, Georgia.—(adv.)

SCOUTS ASSURED OF ALL JOYS AT CAMP PAHATSI

Many parents of boys of Scout age are at a loss, where to send their boy or boys to have a complete kind of environment and climate so vital to the growing boy, secondly to get away from the summer heat and third to have a vacation among congenial friends of his own age and yet be assured he is well taken care of. Such conditions are provided in Camp Pahatsi for boys registered as Scouts. This is the summer camp of the Tahoe Area Council, Boy Scouts of America.

The daily program provides plenty of sleep, regular meals, good food, and plenty of opportunities to learn flowers, birds, trees and animals, to camp and hike, to swim, boating, to make things and to participate in the camp games and fun, all under good leadership.

Mr. W. F. Sharp, camp chairman, says all this can be had merely for the annual 50c membership for boys not now Scouts and only $6.00 per week to attend camp. Camp will be held in three, one week periods starting Sunday July 9th and ending on July 30th.

White camp hats have been received and are ready for distribution to those who register. The 1933 Camp Pahatsi emblem is blue. Registrations so far are on a par with last year. Some of the troops will send more Scouts than last year. Roseville No. 1 will have 15 and Colfax No. 25 will have 13.

Work parties will resume construction at camp Saturday and Sunday June 24 and 25th to prepare for camp.

LOOKING UP

By S. G. RUBINOW

SACRAMENTO, June 15—(UP)—All eyes are focused on the International Economic Conference, in London. Historians, Statesmen, Political scientists, Journalists, editors unite in saying the meet will write a new page in world history.

Upon the success of the conference depends future welfare and prosperity of the world. A blow-up, at this time, would do more than anything to precipitate another war.

Already, ugly rumors of another war, deadlier and more ghastly than the World War of a few years ago, are flying about Europe. Many Europeans look upon war as a medium through which some of their economic problems, chiefly those of over-production and lack of territory can be solved.

With us, in the United States, this condition does not prevail. We don't want war. We want peace, prosperity, happiness, good business, a full dinner pail, work, wages, and stabilized economic conditions.

We are not interested in war. We look upon it as nothing short of legalized murder. No problem of any significance was ever settled equitably by a fight, nor by wars or murders.

There is too much to do in the United States, and in the world over, in the way of recovery of business prosperity ,to monkey with the dynamite of war. Even the country that wins in war is hurt beyond repair for many years.

Wars are but the products of hysteria, emotionalism, ignorance, and cowardice. Usually, those who start wars ,stay at home, safe and sound, while the innoent are slaughtered.

The writer is not a pacifist, in the literal sense of the word. My hatred of wars is not based on any sentimentality. I look upon wars simply as unadulterated foolishness, bringing no gain to anyone ,and hurting many.

If those who participate in the London conference, act right, and think right ,and are right, the new deal started by Roosevelt for the United States will spread throughout the world.

Now is the time to eliminate all friction between countries. Even to the extreme nationalists it must be evident that the world is international in fact as well as in custom.

Now is the time for the United States to take the leadership in eliminating every barrier that stands in the way of world prosperity. It's difficult for a good man to live among thieves. But eliminate the thieves. and all men will prosper.

This is the age in which to be alive and to help do things. The greatest era of human happiness is opening up. Science, invention, human resources, are drawing back the curtains, and permitting humanity a glimpse of what the future holds.

WHAT TO DO FOR RATTLER'S BITE

SACRAMENTO, June 15—(UP)—A sudden shrill rattle; a lunge almost quicker than the eye can detect; a scream . . . . . and a human being has been bitten by a rattlesnake.

What to do? A tourniquet? Whiskey? Incision and suck the would? Application of permanganate of potash?

Aware the woods will be filled this summer with youngmen working in forest camps and with thousands more who will choose a vacation in the open rather than at summer resorts, the state department of public health today issued timely advice of how to treat rattlesnake bites.

Hrer's the approved emergency treatment. First apply a tourniquet. Then make a one-quarter inch cross cut incision over each fang mark. Apply suction for at least half an hour.

If the spread of infection is not checked, make further incisions where swelling is worse and continue suction.

Call a physician immediately. If anti-crotalus serum is available, it should be applied. Do not use permanganate of potash. It is believed use of this treatment may do more harm than good.

Do not bind the tourniquet too tightly, and release it every 10 or 15 minutes for about one minute—this to prevent gangrene. If the heart is weakened by the poison, administer a little strong coffee or a teasponful of aromatic spirits of ammonia to a glass of water. It is essential the anti-vernom or serum be of the same type as the snake that bit the patient. There are two species of poisonous snakes common in California—the Pacific rattler and the Texas rattler.

DON'T—

Run or get overheated; that causes the infection to spread. Take any alcoholic stimulants; they merely spread the poison. Injure tissues by injecting permangante of potash. Depend upon home remedies; few are effective. Cauterize the site of the bite with strong acids.

Most rattlesnake bites are on the hands or feet, according to Dr. Giles Porter, director of the health department. "It is dangerous," he observed, "to pick or reach for an object on the ground unless one is assured at rattlesnake is not in the immediate vicinity."

"A motion toward an unseen snake will cause the reptile—if one be present—take defensive action immdiately. The bite will be inflicted with the speed of lightning.

"'Pain following the bite is most intense. Other symptoms are swelling, weakness, giddiness, difficult breathing, hemhorrage, weak pulse, nausea and vomiting. Pain and swelling are universal symptoms."

FONG TO HAVE HOME

ALLEGHANL, June 15—A drive for $150 to rebuild the cabin for Fong, Alleghany's beloved old Chinaman, was started several days ago. To date $75 of the quota has been raised with good prospects of oversubscribing the full amount.

Fong is one of the two oldest Chinamen in the county. Although Fong does not remember his age. Mrs. Thomas Bradbury, widow of the founder of the Sixteen to One mine, says that he was an old man when she was a little girl.

In his lifetime he has seen the Sixteen to One mine, where he formerly worker, developed from a wild prospect to one of the richest gold mines in the world.

INVESTIGATOR WARNS OF UNLICENSED BUILDERS

Warning against awarding construction work to unknown and unlicensed contractors, Russell Sweeney, district investigator for the State Registrar of Construction, has been a guest of the National Hotel. According to Sweeney, fires such as the recent Alleghany disaster draw carpet-bag contractors who often secure work that responsible men should have.

The state man advises that the Contractors' License Bureau, administered by Col. Carlos W. Huntington who is also Director of the State Department of Professional and Vocational Standards, serves as a guard against illegal contractors, and materially checks such practices as abandonments of jobs when overpayments are secured, violations of safety or labor laws, diversion of building funds causing liens against the property, and other fradulent practices.

"The law is a valuable protection," Sweeney stated, "but an ounce of prevention is a good investment. Make all bidders for work show their State license. Then award no contracts that are not carefully written and signed."

NICKERSON BROS. OPERATING MINE

Nickerson Brothers, are operating their mother's property south west of Nevada City, adjoining the famous Champion mine.

They have a 12 foot arrastre and flotation plant and are working steadily on good gold producingore. The plant is capable of handling several tons of rock a day.

Another brother, Henry Nickerson, sheriff of Ely county, Nevada, and Mr. Hills came down recently and spent a few days at the property.

Mrs. Barbara Sullivan recently sold her residence property on Spring street to John Ghidotti, Jr. Young Ghidotti has just secured a gold buyers license an dis now prepared to buy gold dust, nuggets and bullion.

"Just A Dog"

Folks say you're just a dog—
Your life is a lark;
You run and play and loiter about
Just eat and sleep and bark.

"Dog" means more than some surmise,
God's creature,—though a beast,
That speechless tongue, those vigilant eyes
Leave thought on which to feast.

Who will endure abuse and fear,
And still forgive so willingly;
With head bowed low, in shame he'll bear
The sting of inhumanity.

His tarnished eyes about to close,
His heart of cheer deprived,
Yet there in silence he'll repose.
Until the warmth of human touch
Lost gladness has revived.

Folks say you're just a dog,
And though you're dumb, indeed
You have bestowed the greatest gift
That humanity should heed.

Oh, few of us who truly share
The trust and patience you forbear,
To consecrate your faithfulness
On the Altar of Human Friendliness.

ROLPH MUST ACT ON ALL BILLS BY END OF WEEK

By MELVIN LORD

SACRAMENTO, June 15—(UP)—Governor Rolph has entered the last lap of the bill signing period for the first part of the legislative session which saw some 1,100 measures dumped on his desk for consideration.

The end of the week marks the end of the period in which the governor must either sign or veto the bills, otherwise they become law without his approval.

Final action was taken during the week on a number of important measures, including the so_called 6,-600-mile road bill. Actually this bill adds more than 6,700 miles of roads to the secondary highway system of the state thereby relieving counties of a huge burden in the way of reconstruction and maintenance.

In addition the bill provides that one-quarter of one cent out of the three cents tax collected on every gallon of gasoline will be used on main highways through incorporated cities. This is expected to prove of substantial benefit to the municipalities.

The governor vetoed a bill which would have placed an eight cents per pound tax on oleomargerine manufactured from foreign oils. In explaining his action, the governor said the bill was aimed particularly at Philippine cocoanut oil and would wreck trade between the Islands and California; that it was discriminatory and would not aid California dairymen because it did not tax margerines made of animal fat, most of which are manufactured in the middle west.

A number of important fish and game bills were approved by Rolph He signed bills limiting the commercial taking of striped bass to three months; opening a pheasant season for the first time in years by permitting hunting of these game birds November 15-20; making the possession of a spotlight and a gun in game territory prima facie evidence of guilt in the matter of hunting at night.

Seeking approval of proposition No. 1 on the special election ballot June 27, Ray L. Riley, state controller, and Fred Stewart, chief of the tax research bureau and member of the state board of equalization, have started on a "'barnstorming" trip of the state. The proposition, the so-called Riley-Stwart tax plan provides for drastic changes in California's system of taxation including abolition of the dual system of permitting only the state to tax public utility property.

California will be given opportunity to determine whether the plan of aiding veterans to purchase farms and homes will be continued. The governor has signed a bill to place the proposed $30,000,000 bond issue on the 1934 election ballot.

ABLE BODIED SEEKERS OF AID, MUST WORK

SACRAMENTO, June 15—(UP)—In the future able bodied applicants for aid from counties may be required to work for assistance given them.

This provision is an important part of a bill passed by the legislature and signed recently by Governor Rolph.

"Under the terms of the bill," explained Mrs. Rheba Crawford Splivalo, "work may be required of an able bodied indigent as a condition of relief. Such work shall be created for the purpose of keeping the indigent from idleness and assisting in his rehabilitation and the preservation of his self-respect."

AGED CYCLER CROSSES COUNTRY THREE TIMES

OROVILLE, June 15—(UP)—The fad of riding bicycles which has taken the country by storm is an old story to H. H. McCloud, 78, Riverside mining engineer.

McCloud stopped here the other day after a 600-mile bicycle trip from Riverside. After purchasing supplies he continued on to La Porte to prospect.

The aged cyclist said he had crossed the ontinent three times on a bicycle, as well as having made other long trips.

Mr. Eggman—Money isn't everything in this world, you know.

Goldie Diggs—No, but it happens to be the thing I mainly need right now.

Civic Club Hears Ballot Measures Explained

The Womans Civic Club met last Monday evening to hold their regular club meeting and then study the amendments to be voted on June 27. Judge Raglan Tuttle explained both sides of each question in a clear and concise manner.

Their support of amendment No. 1, or the Riley Tax Plan, whereby taxes will be reduced about $1.63 on each $100 of property valuation as provided in this measure. There will be an increase of $19,000,000 in 1935 added to the tax roll of the state through the taxing of corporations now exempted.

Particular emphasis was stressed on the fact that Nevada county will benefit more than most counties of the state the taxes being cut about in half.

At their business session it was voted to donate $5 each to local Boy Scouts and the Salvation Army.

The members were assured by those in charge of the Civilian Camp near Town Talk that magazines and other reading matter will be welcomed by the men. Citizens are also asked to assist in this cause.

BOWMAN DAM ROAD OPEN

Due to the late arrival of the summer weather this season, roads of the higher altitudes above Nevada City are beginning to be opened up now.

The latest is the Nevada City-Graniteville-Bowman road, which is reported passable by Gregg Williams who made a trip as far as the Nevada Irrigation districts storage lake at Bowman. The roads are muddy and rough, and Mr. Williams advises taking tire chains along.

Mayor and Mrs. R. J. Bennetts returned Wednesday evening from attending the graduating exercises of their son, Carlton, at McGill University ,Canada. While away they made a tour of the United States and attended the Century of Progress Fair at Chicago.

GOOD WORK!

Now clean-up week has come to town
And we are pure and neat;
We have no tin can alleys now,
No debris littered street;
The fresh air bears the tang of pine,
The incense too, of flower and vine.

No swarms of iridescent flies
Arise as we draw near,
The innuendoes of our friends
We have no cause to fear;
We walk the trails serenely
now
And wear no ruffles on our brow.

Now in our homes we have no time
To stop and swat the fly,
'Tis better far to thwart the brute—
You can too, if you'll try;
Screened doors and windows,
sans a doubt,
Will keep disturbing insects
out .

—A. M. C.

Summer is with us again and that fact reminds us of FLIES. Anticipating that army large or small, we have completed our stocks with screen wire, screen doors and screens for the window; too, flies detest fresh paint. We have all colors of paint and at right prices.

And since summer is actually here, many in Nevada City are adding to their open air sleeping quarters. Let us help you in your summer building plans. It will be our pleasure to co-operate with you.

WHAT THE COST? WATER USERS OF GOLD HILL ASK

AUBURN, (Placer Co.) June 15.—To give a group of Placer County landowners an opportunity to ascertain whether they wish to protest the proposed sale of the Gold Hill irrigation ditches by the Pacific Gas and Electric Company to the Nevada Irrigation District for $250,000, Examiner W. C. Frankhauser of the state railroad commission yesterday adjourned a hearing on the matter until next Monday.

The action was taken after more than three hours of discussion before a large audience of water users a group of whom were represented by Attorney T. L. Chamberiam. Chamberiain stated he represented a group receiving service from the Gold Hill ditches, but residing outside the Nevada Irrigation District.

INFORMATION ASKED

Chamberlain stated the water users wanted information regarding their status in case the ditches were purchased by the Nevada Irrigation District.

The water users asked:

1. What the Nevada Irrigation District officials proposed to charge those outside the district for water?
2. Would as much water as necessary be available to these purchasers at all times?
3. Would it be possible to stipulate a maximum price for water purchased from the district?

DURBROW GIVES ANSWER

This brought a definite statement from the Nevada Irrigation District officials, J. A. Teagarden, chairman of the board of directors and William Durbrow, district manager, of the proposed irrigation prices, if the transfer of the properties becomes effective this season.

The district proposes to sell water to users residing outside the Nevada Irrigation District for $45 an inch, the same price that is now charged by the Pacific Gas and Electric Company.

If water users now outside the district decide to come within the district, the price will immediately be reduced to $40 an inch, and of that $40, $16 will be set aside to apply on land taxes similiar to those paid by persons within the district.

LOWER RATE EVENTUALLY

When this $16 allowance has paid in a sum similiar to that paid in by the same kind of property inside the district in land taxes, the regular inside rates will apply as follows:

Irrigation water for orchard lands $24 per inch.

Irrigation water for field crops, $20 per inch.

However, William Durbrow, manager of the district, stated he felt the district must not be tied down to any maximum rate by the railroad commission, when the transfer is made. He felt such a stipulation on the part of the district would be unfair in view of the possibility of an inflated dollar.

SEASONAL COLLECTIONS

J. A. Teagarden stated the Nevada Irrigation District will have available all the water for irrigation which the Pacific Gas and Electric Company now has, in addition to water owned by the district which can be made available for irrigation, as the occasion demands. He stated the district expects to serve the needs of all potential users whether or not they reside inside the Nevada Irrigation District.

Teagarden also stated after the hearing that the Nevada Irrigation District positively will not continue the policy of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company in collecting for irrigation water by the month, and reserving the right to shut off the water for non-payment in the midst of the season.

PAYMENT IN FALL

Inside the Nevada Irrigation District he stated, application for water must be accompanied by a deposit amounting to 15 per cent of the total amount ordered, the other 85 per cent to be paid October 1st, after returns from the various crops possible inside the district have been received by the grower.

Details for payments outside the district have not yet been announced.

NEVADA CITY TO PARTICIPATE

At its meeting Monday evening the Nevada City Chamber of Commerce decided to participate in the Grass Valley Fourth of July celebration by entering a juvenile float of Nevada City youngsters.
